

Website Privacy and Cookies Policy

This Privacy and Cookies Policy applies to the website (“website”).

(“website”) recognises the importance of honest and responsible use of your personal information. This Privacy and Cookies Policy (“policy”) explains how we collect, store and process personal information about you when you visit this website, make a purchase in my online shop and when you contact me, whether by email or using the contact options on this website.

We respect your privacy and handle the collection, storage and processing of personal data carefully and in accordance with the applicable regulations on the protection of personal data. It is important for us that you feel comfortable in visiting the website.

Please read this policy before using the site or submitting any personal information. By using the site, you are accepting the practices described in this privacy policy.

What type of personal information do we collect and why?

Where you choose to provide personal details to us, we may collect the following personal information from you:

- Your first and last name
- Your phone number
- Your email address
- Your delivery and/or shipping address
- Your standard internet and website log information e.g. operating system, browser type, domain name, the Internet protocol (IP) address of your computer (or other electronic Internet-enabled device), your access times, the website that referred you to us, the Web pages you request and the date and time of those requests

This information will be collected primarily from you as information voluntarily provided to us.

We need this data to fulfil the order processing or to respond to your enquiry sent to us via email or using the contact options on this website.

How do we use information about you?

We may use information about you for the following purposes:

- to respond and/or deal with your request or enquiry;
- to improve our products and services and to ensure that content from the website is presented in the most effective manner for you and your computer (or other electronic Internet-enabled device);
- to contact you by email or phone for the above reasons;
- subject to your consent where required under applicable laws, to carry out direct marketing and/or email marketing that you have requested;
- to perform any contract the Company has with you; and
- for compliance with legal, regulatory and other good governance obligations.

This list is not intended to be exhaustive and may be updated from time to time.

What is the legal basis for the use of personal data?

The legal basis on which we rely to process your personal information include:

- On some occasions, we process your data with your consent (for example, when you agree that we may place cookies or process information that you input into our website).
- On other occasions, we process your data when we need to do this to fulfil a contract with you (for example, for billing purposes) or where we are required to do this by law (for example, to comply with record-keeping obligations).
- We also process your data when it is in our legitimate interests to do this and when these interests are not overridden by your data protection rights.

Do you share personal information with third parties?

Your personal data will not be available or shared with third parties. It will only be used for the purposes described above.

What rights do you have to review and amend personal information?

You have the right to review and access your personal information held by Acrylic Art by Irena. You can do so on your user profile. In case you want to be deleted from the records, send me an email to the e-mail address: “ e-mail naslovi”, and we will delete them immediately. If you have any further questions about this, please get in touch.

How long do you store personal data?

When we store your information, we do so for as long as necessary to fulfil the specific purposes for which your personal information was collected to perform the services set out in this notice and to comply with the legal obligations or enforce our legal rights.

How we use cookies?

We use cookies for certain areas of our Site. Cookies are small data files stored on your hard drive by a website. Cookies help us improve our Site and your experience. We use cookies to see which areas and features are popular and to count visits to our websites, to recognise you as a returning visitor and to tailor your experience of the Site according to your preferences. Overall, cookies help us provide you with better websites, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. We may also use cookies for targeting or advertising purposes.

We will ask for your consent to the use of cookies set out in this Privacy and Cookies Policy when you first access the website and if we introduce any new cookies. When you first visit the website, a box/banner will appear asking you to agree to the cookies that we set on the website. Your continued use of the website will be treated as consent to the use of these cookies for the purposes described.

To delete or block cookies by browser settings at any time and for more general information about cookies including the difference between session and persistent cookies, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

Changes to this privacy and cookies policy

We reserve the right to modify this privacy policy at any time, so please review it frequently. Changes and clarifications will take effect immediately upon their posting on the website. If we make changes to this policy, we will notify you here that it has been updated by updating the last updated date at the bottom of the page.
